What is a fruit cake? - It is a cake that is sweet with nuts and candied fruits and some brandy.

In the first match today Ken "Fruitcake" Langendorf and Lynn Carlson began with a -2 against Elliot Feuerstein and Chic Smith with a plus 7 score. The score then went to a -5 for Ken and Lynn to Elliot and Chic's plus 37. The Fruitcake was then admonished by Judge Joe for moving a puck before Judge Joe could finish calling the score.

Ken and Lynn climbed out of their hole to lead 82 to Elliot and Chic's 80. Ken then scored 14 points and Elliot on the last puck scored 23 to win 103 to 96.

Elaine Roemer then sprayed the pucks after the disastrous 1st match for the next match.

Judge Joe's Corner

FROM THE HIGH CHAIR

The Tournament is moving along according to schedule due to the careful planning by Elaine and Bill.

Unfortunately there have been two challenges to the unwritten rules which prompts me to explain.

The first and most important unwritten rule, as you all know, is that the unwritten rules may not be challenged. Now that this is written it is no longer part of the unwritten rules. A Pity!!.

Therefore, in the future, anyone questioning the unwritten rules may be warned, admonished or even castigated!. Enough said on this subject.

Respectfully submitted, Judge Joe

Teri Jones Corner

The 3rd Annual Ancillary Valentine's Tournament took place on February 13th & 14th. A plethora of players pucked persistently for two days. Of the 42 players over half helped during the tournament. The "Family Feud" game with the Mayr's and McDowell's was the shortest of the first day—no one wanted to go home angry. Winners of the Tournament were Dave Vistanet and Roseann Mastrangioli—expect to see her wearing her crown. 2nd place went to Peter Lazenby and Teri Jones—thanks to Peter's excellent play. 3rd place went to Tom Naden and Diane Feuerstein who lost the coin toss to Dave and Roseann for a finalist berth.

*Don't forget to thank Teri Jones for the Magnificent Valentine Tournament and Party.

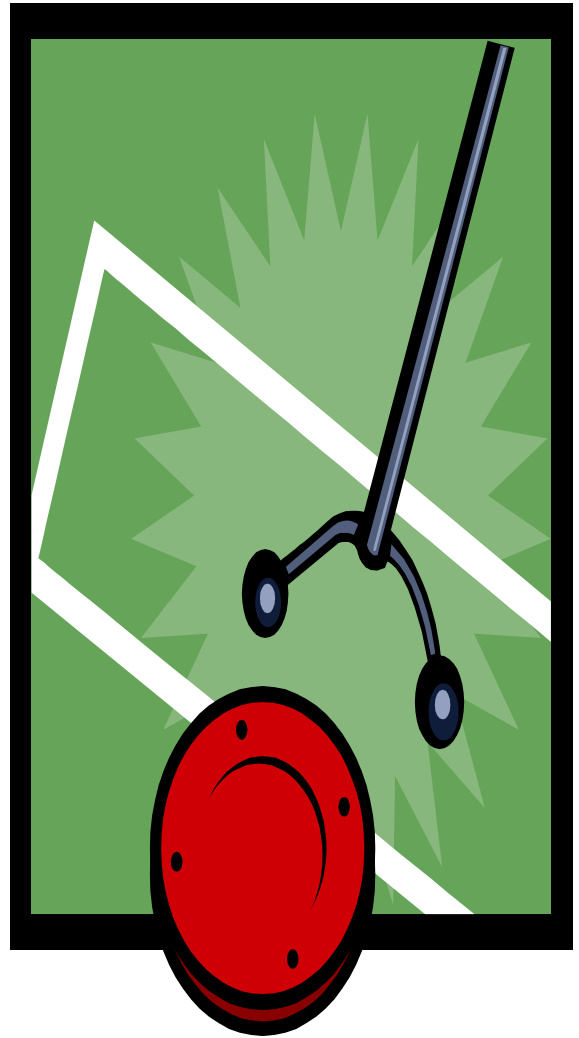

The final match of the day was Bill Carlson and Barbie Langendorf versus Gene Jones and Mary Ann Fritschle. The spray that Elaine Roemer used (Bill didn't want to be seen as greasing his own pucks) must have had glue in it as both teams had a problem pushing the pucks into scoring positions. Bill and Barbie eventually won over Gene and Mary Ann 114 to 96.

The last two quarter final matches will be played this Friday, February 18th beginning at 2 p.m.

The 1st match will be Charles Mayrs and Teri Jones versus Scotty Smith and Sally Thorpe followed by Jim Roemer and Mary Mayrs versus Henry Keys and Dianne Feuerstein

Please pay our $26/person ASAP for the wards Breakfast Saturday, February 26th at 11 a.m. to either Gene Or Diane.
